A ROCKY CAREER.

John R. Montgomery Walks From Passadena, Cal.

A GRADUATE OF YALE COLLEGE.

AT ONE TIME HE WAS CONSIDER-ED ONE OF THE BEST CRIM-INAL LAWYERS OF THE KEY-STONE STATE, ALSO A MIGHTY FACTOR ON THE POLITICAL STUMP-HE HAS ROAMED THE SEAS AND TRAMPED THE LAND FOR THESE MANY YEARS-HE NOW WANTS A HOME.

He was thought to be a "bogie" man and he came pretty near frightening the life out of the youngsters playing on Chapline street yesterday afternoon, as the lads scampered for life to their respective homes, crying out that some strange and feroclous being was after some distant relatives. He is a gray-haired old man, probably seventy years of age. He was one of the toughest looking spectmens of humanity a person ever gazed upon. His wearing apparel consisted of sunny-sacks; on his head was a hat of the vintage of '33, and covering his feet were rubber shees, each of a different size and hue. He has been on the road the best portion of the year. Too old to work and therefore subsisting on what the good people along the way would tender him. He is a bright old codger and from his language it was easily seen that he was an educated man. He claims to have graduated from Yale college and admitted to the bar, at Philadelphia more than forty-five years ago. It was also learned that he was one of the best criminal lawyers in the state of Pennsylvania and that he was a mighty factor on the political stump, having hob-nobbed with war governor Curtain and other leading lights of the Keystone state. Since his downfall, which he attributes to the loss of his family, business reverses and whisky, he has roamed this wide world almost from alpha to omega.

It was not a "bogie" man; it proved to be a tramp with a most remarkable

reamed this wide world almost from al-pha to omega.

He sailed the briny deep a score of times, rounding Cape Horn and going through the Samwich Islands and the gold fields of Australia. He has picked gold fields of Australia. He has picked cotton in the south, herded cattle on the range, player-mined it in the Black Hills, and finally picked grapes in the famous vineyards of California. He is old and broken down and is now seeking shelter with some friends in Pennsylvania. He hopes to reach his destination before Christmas, and may he have a merry one.

IMPROVEMENT IN GAS.

City Gas Works Using an Oil Enricher in Manufacture of Gaz.

There is an apparent improvement in the quality of the gas being manufac-tured at the municipal gas works and a still further improvement will be in evidence shortly. It is expected to bring up the standard of the gas from fifteen up the standard of the gas from fifteen and sixteen candle power to eighteen and twenty candle power. The improvement already noticed is caused by the use of the Floersheim coal which is better adapted to the making of gas than that used during the strike, which came from Monongha and from a local mine. In addition the board is now using two retorts in which cill is used to generate gas, and this will bring the candle power up to the figures mentioned. The last tank of the old gas is now being consumed.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevalls when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatol billous fevers. No medicine will set more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters. 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Logan Drug Co.'s drug store.

Cruel Knife!

The alarming increase in the number of deaths which occur as the result of a surgical operation is attracting general surgical operation is attracting general attention, and a strong sentiment against such methods of treatment is fast developing among the most intelligent classes. It seems that in almost every case for which the doctors' treatment is unsuccessful, the learned physicians decide at once that an operation must be performed, and the keen blade of the surgeon is recklessly resorted to. Doctors are human, and of course are liable to make mistakes, but their mistakes are too fatal to be indulged in promiscuously, and as so many lives are sacrificed in this manner, it is but natural for the public to believe that half the operations are unnecessary, besides being a fearful risk to human life, even if successful.

It is a positive fact, however, that all operations are not necessary, and that a majority of them are absolutely undertaken without the slightest chance of success. The doctors have never been able to cure a blood disease, and a surgical operation is their only method of treating deep-seated cases, such as cancer and scrofulous affectious. Aside from the great danger, an operation never did and never will cure cancer, as the disease never fails to return. Cancer is in the blood, and common sense teaches anyone that no disease can be teaches anyone that no disease can be cut from the blood.

Here is a case where the pain inflicted on a six-year-old boy was especially cruel, and after undergoing the tortures produced by the surgeou's knife he rapidly grew worse. Mr. J. N. Murdoch, the father of the boy, residing at 279 Snodgrass street, Dallas, Texas, writes: "When my son, Will, was six years old, a small sore appeared on his lip, which did not yield to the usual treatment, but before long began to grow. If which did not yield to the usual treatment, but before long began to grow. It gave him a great deal of pain, and continued to spread. He was treated by several good doctors, who said he had cancer, and advised that an operation was necessary.

"After much reluctance, we consented, and they cut down to the jaw bone, which they scraped. The operation was a severe one, but I thought it was the only hope for my boy. Before a great while the cancer returned, and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many remedies without relief, and finally upon the advice of a friend, decided to try S.S.S. (Swift's Specific), and with the second advice of a friend, decided to try S.S.S. (Swift's Specific), and with the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the cancer disappeared entirely and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now seventeen years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to return."

S.S.S. is far shead of all other blood S.S. is far ahead of all other blood remedies, because it is the only one which cures deep-seated obstinate blood diseases such as Cancer, Scrofula, Eczema, Catarrh, Rheumatism, etc. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed
